Corey,

Here's our updated briefing sheet with added language on the word "unreasonably" and also the court case. Looking at yours now.

As we discussed, I plan to repurpose the meeting on Friday for a briefing with you two, R4 staff, HQ staff and Sara. Attached is a briefing paper I am working on that we plan to use. The OST portion will likely change a bit as I am exploring a new approach in there and I probably have to think about it some more, but please feel free to comment, make the R4 section your own, and otherwise suggest edits by midday tomorrow, so I can polish it up. I would really like to understand as soon as we can any new arguments you all have that are not reflected in the attached. If this approach doesn't work for some reason, just let me know. Thanks
